

BrightTV (Viewership Analytics)

Tendani Netshiendeulu

Course: Data science

BrightTV (Viewership Analytics)

1. Content

- Introduction
- Data system
- Analysis
- Recommendation
- Q&A

➤ Introduction

- The CEO for brighttv has set a clear strategic objective for this financial year which is to significantly grow the company's subscription base. Achieving this goal requires a deep understanding of customer behaviour, preferences, and value drivers.
- I have conducted this analysis to generate actionable insights that will support the Customer Value Management (CVM) team in identifying opportunities to attract, retain, and maximize the value of subscribers.

➤ Data system

❖ Project Planning

- Miro
- Canva

❖ Data Processing

- Databricks

❖ Data Visualisation

- Microsoft Excel

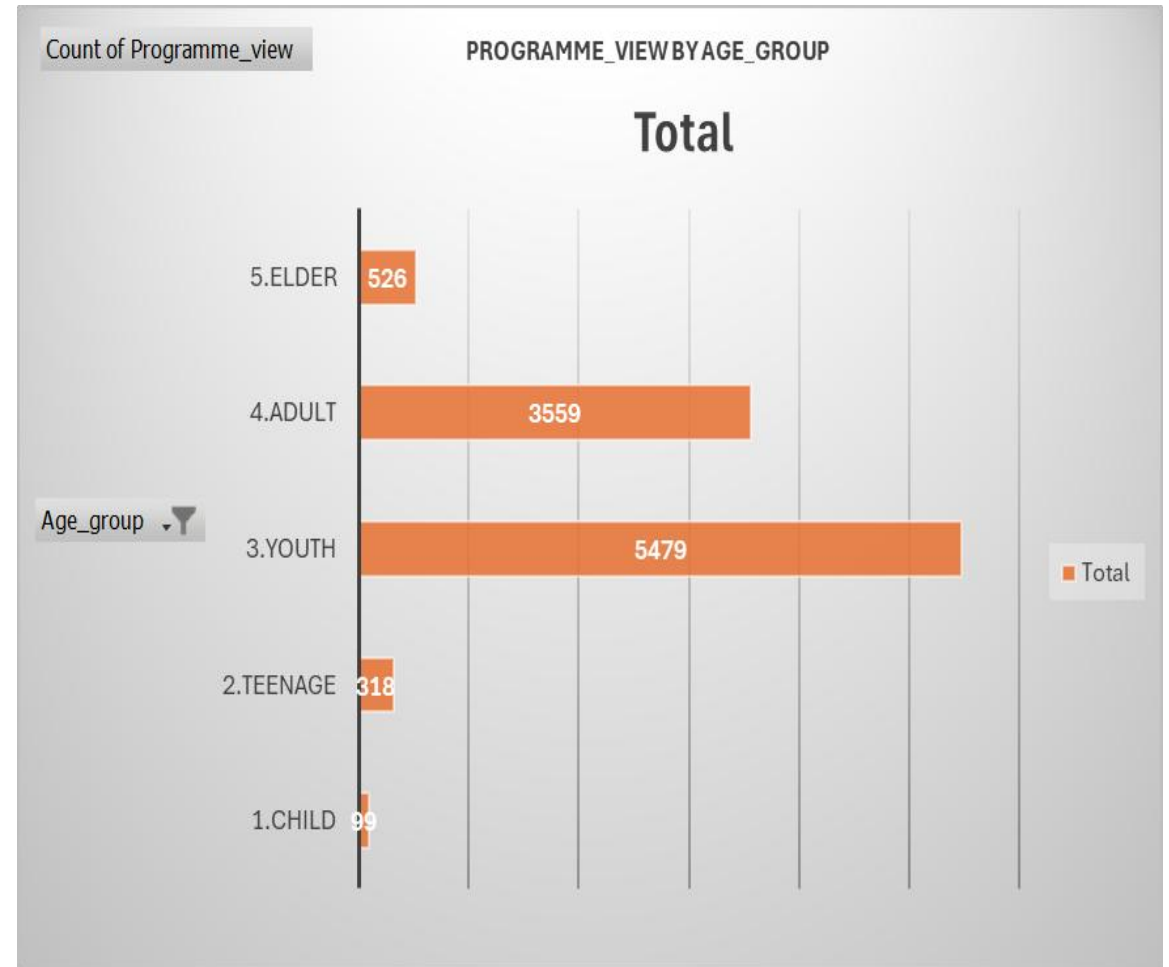

❖ Presentation

- Microsoft PowerPoint

➤ Analysis

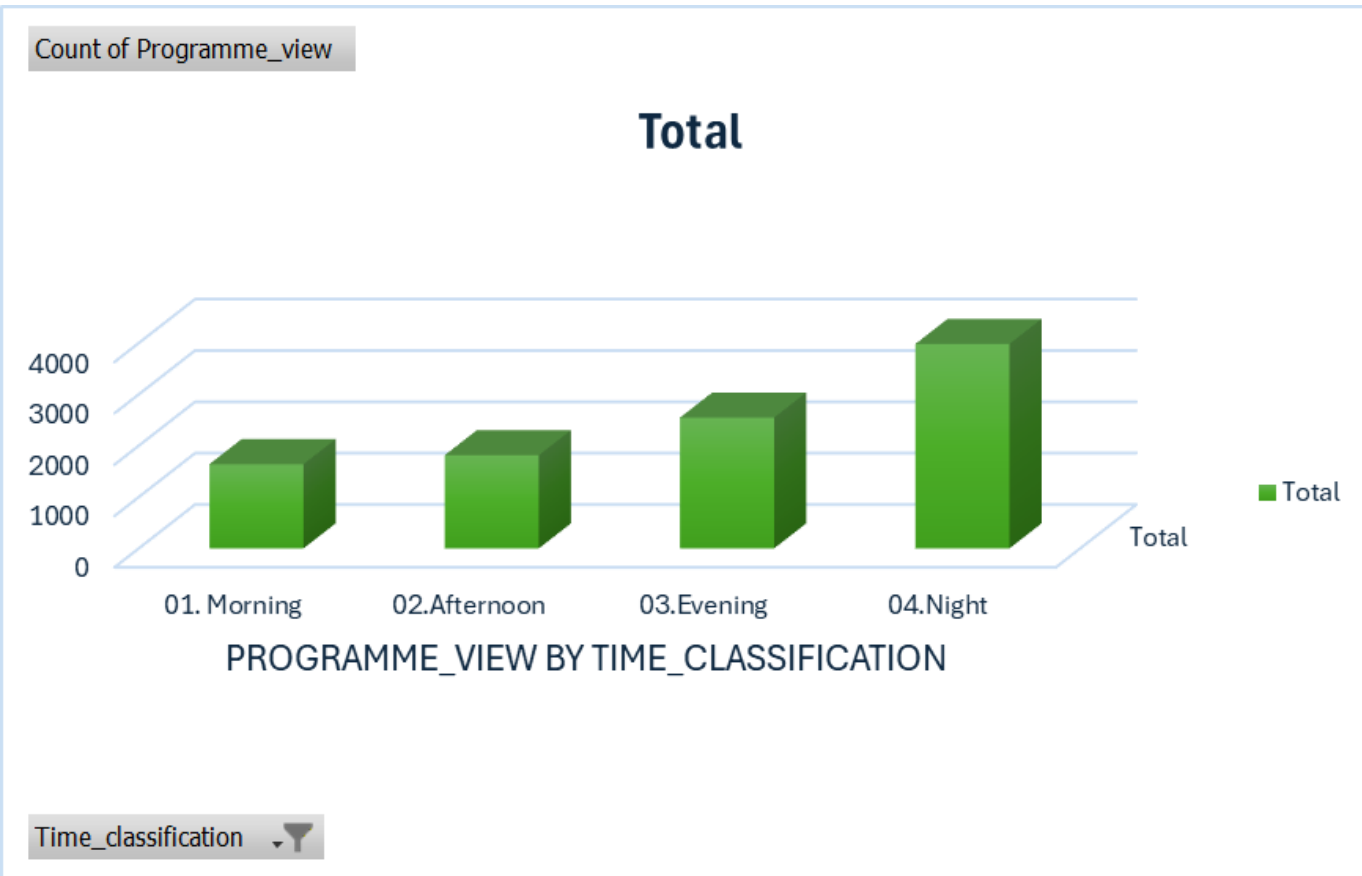

Insight

- The youth is the one with most views at 5479 with adults being the second-largest group at 3,559 views which shows a significant portion of engagement comes from adults, suggesting balanced appeal beyond just youth.
- Low engagement from Teenagers at 318 and Children at 99 these segments are under represented, pointing to a potential gap in age-specific content.
- Elders are moderate at 526.

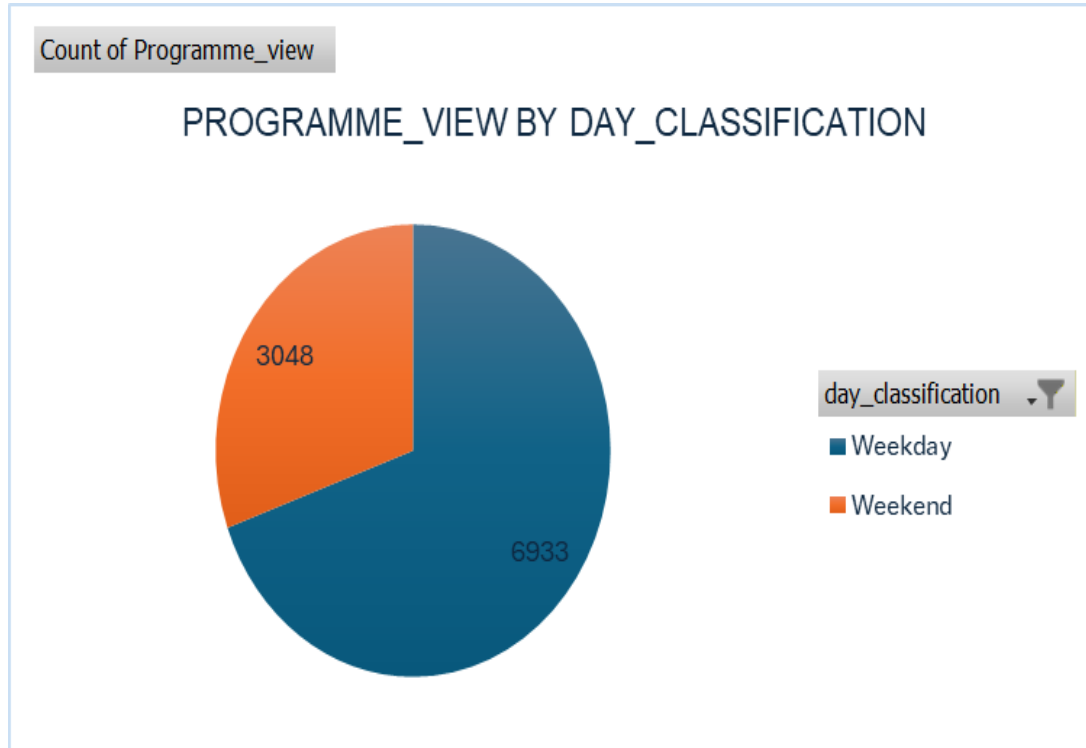

Insight

- Night time has most viewership this is the peak viewing period, which shows that most users are active after hours.
- Evening is the second strongest engagement starts rising significantly from evening into night.
- Afternoon shows moderate activity there is steady but lower engagement compared to later hours.
- Morning has the lowest viewership Users are least active during early hours due to work or school

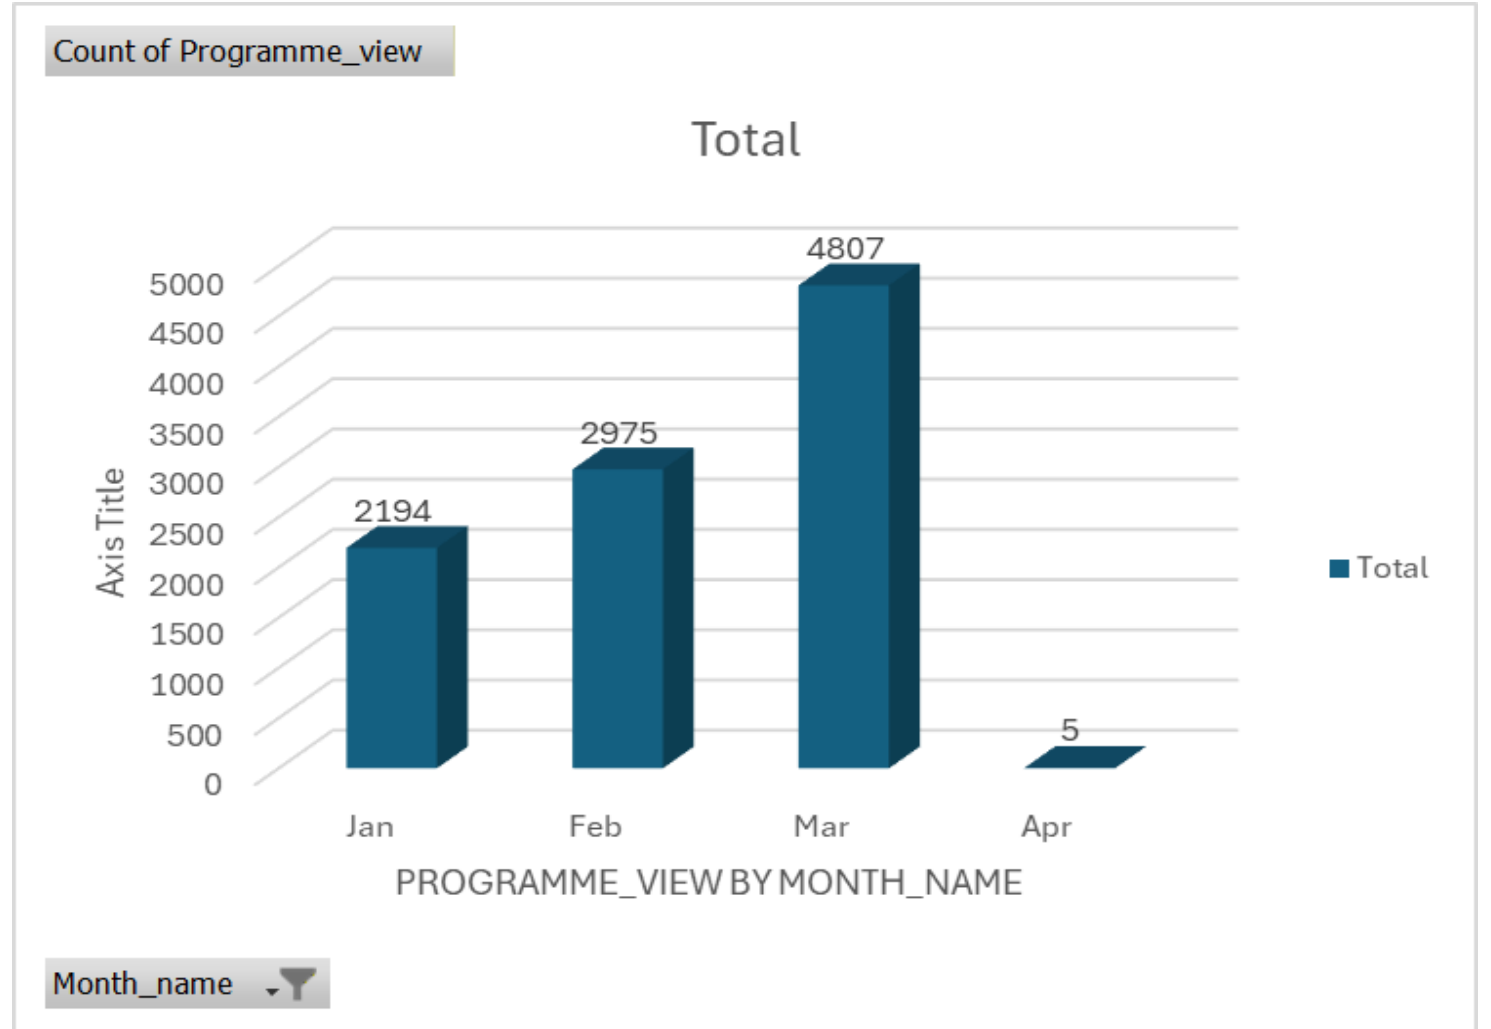

Insight

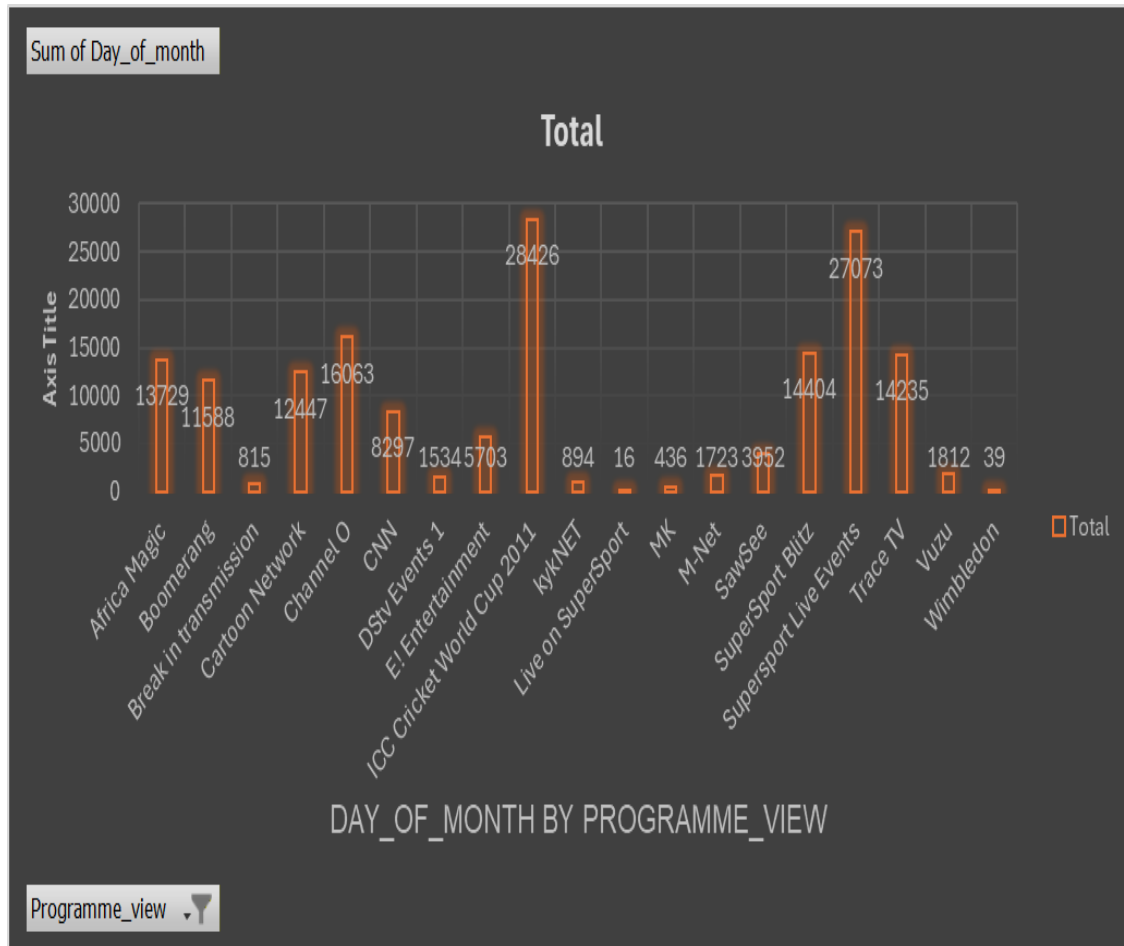

- Weekdays dominate viewership because most users are actively watching during the week.
- Weekend viewership is significantly lower, viewing drops on weekends because users may be busy with other activities and less dependent on watching TV.

Insights

- Strong growth From Jan, Feb to Mar then a decline in Apr.
- March represents the peak month

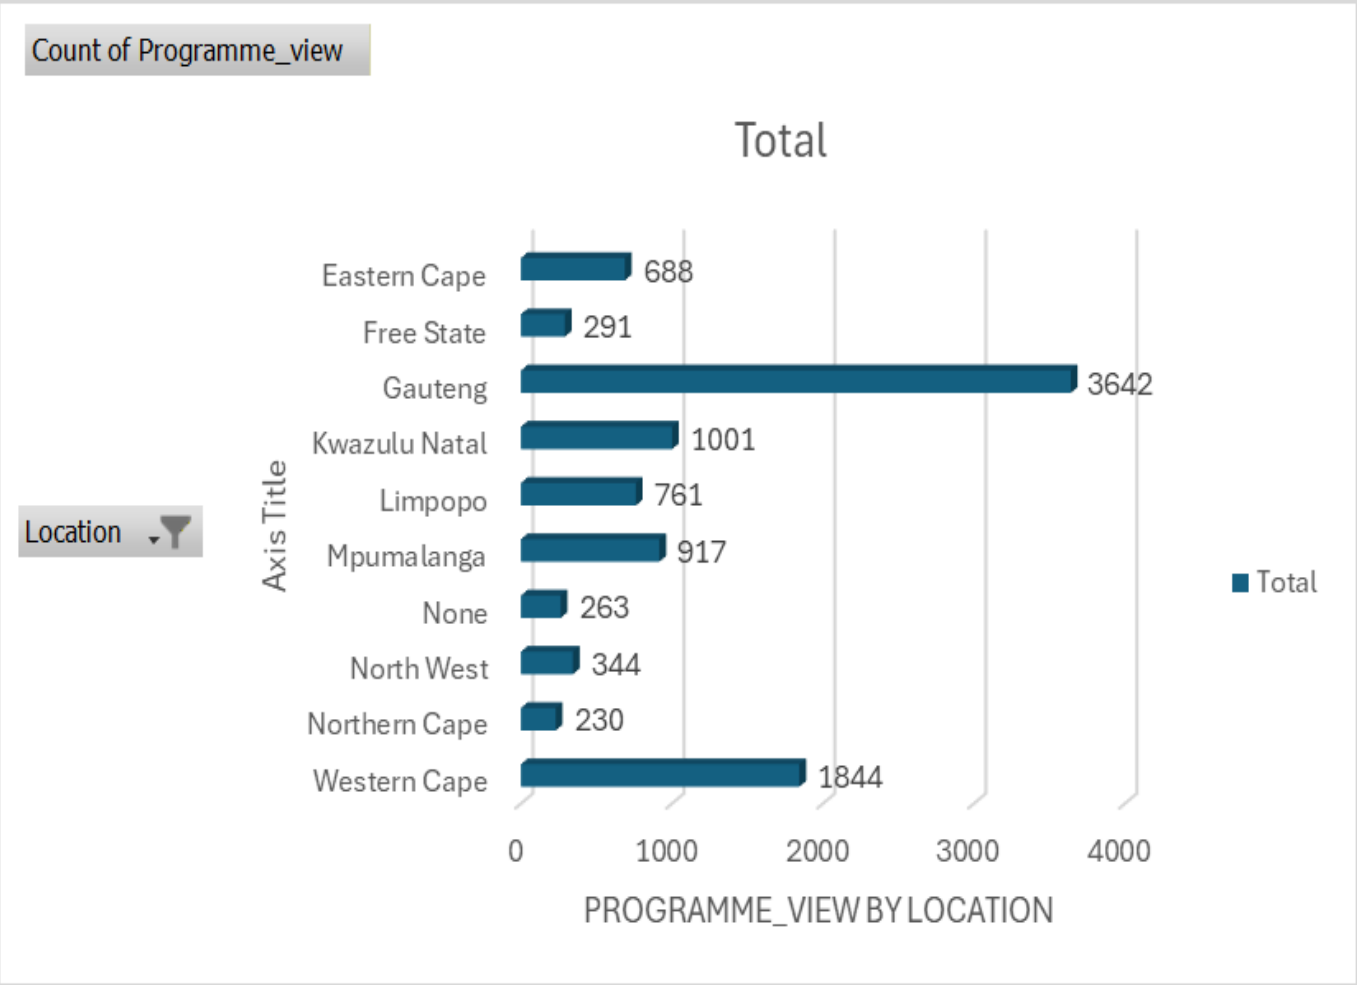

Insight

- Top performers are Cricket World Cup 2011 at 28,426 and SuperSport Live Events at 27,073 views, showing exceptionally high engagement compared to all other programs.
- Channel O at 16,063, SuperSport Blitz at 14,404, and Trace TV at 14,235 also stand out as strong performers.
- Moderate engagement channels like Africa Magic at 13,729, Cartoon Network at 12,447, and Boomerang at 11,588 show consistent but mid-range totals.

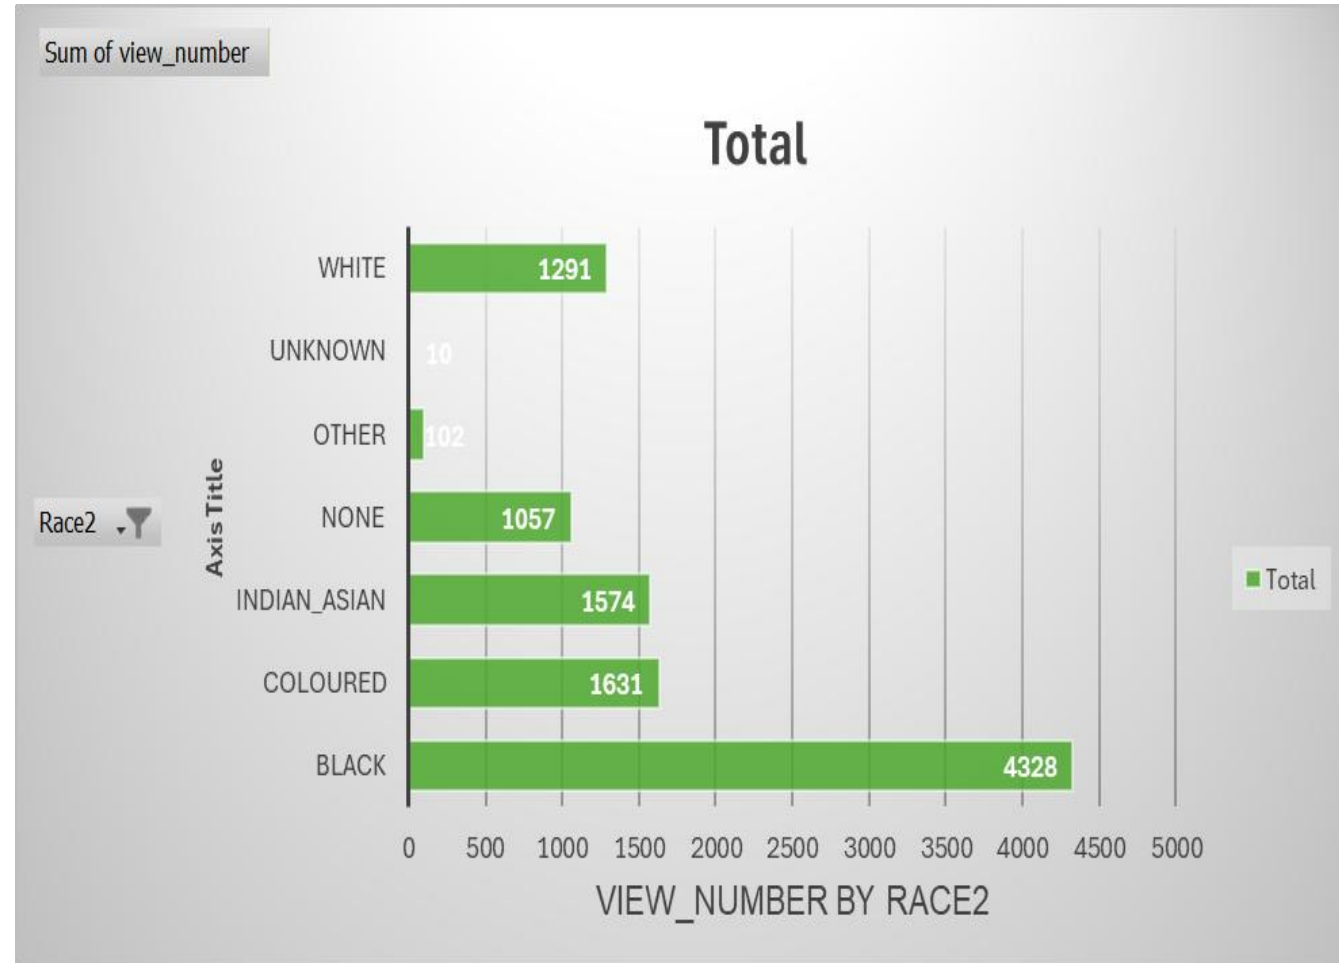

insight

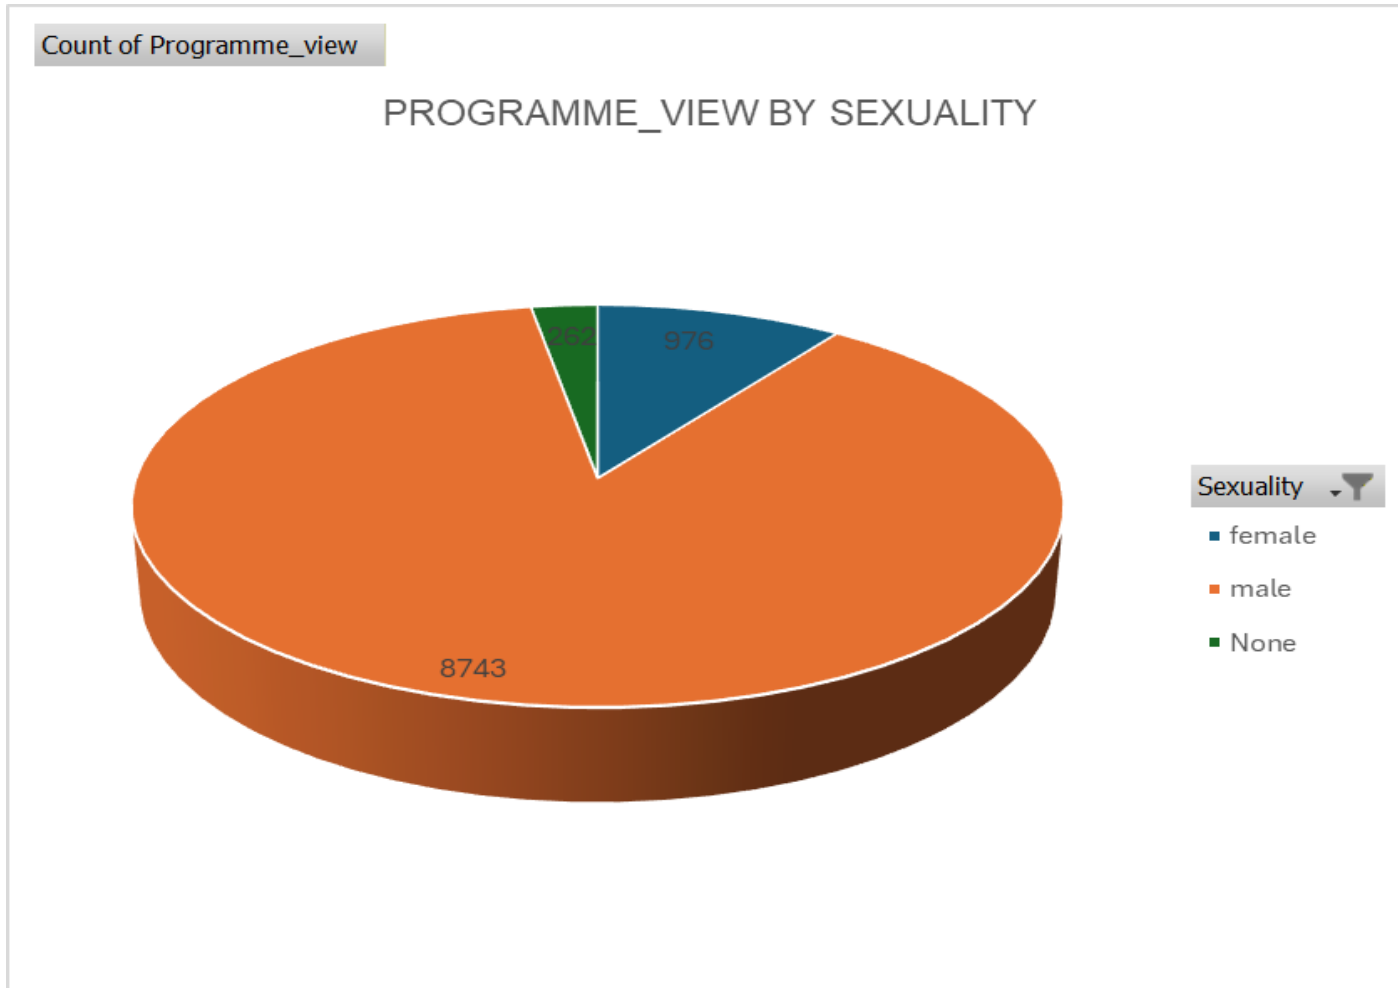

- Gauteng is the most dominated province with most viewership, with western cape being the second strongest province.
- North wes, free state and northern cape are the lowest in terms of viewership.
- None at 263 represent incomplete information

Insight

- Black audience dominates viewership with 4,328 views.
- White, Indian_Asian and coloured that at the middle in terms of viewership.
- unknown race is the lowest

Insight

- Males dominate viewership at 8743 due the number of sports programmes that are available, with a small portion from females at 976.
- None which indicates missing information being at 262 so we don't know whether its males or females

➤ Recommendation

- Strengthen Adult-focused content Expand content that appeals to adults e.g news, drama, lifestyle to grow this already strong segment and develop targeted content for Teens and Children introduce age-appropriate programming e.g cartoons, teen series to capture these underserved segments and grow future subscribers.
- Prioritize prime-time (Evening & Night) content schedule high-demand shows, premieres, and exclusive content during these peak hours to maximize engagement and subscriptions.
- Introduce targeted promotions at night use push notifications, discounts, or featured content during peak time to convert active viewers into subscriber
- Maximize weekday engagement (core strength)Schedule premium content, new episodes, and key releases during weekdays leverage habitual viewing with daily or weekly series
- Improve weekend engagement Introduce special weekend content (movies, live events, binge-worthy series)Run weekend promotions or discounted bundles to attract more viewersLeverage High-Performing Events
- In April Promote top programmes more aggressively.
- Run awareness campaigns and offer promotions free trials in the lower provinces
- Focus on coloured and Indian _Asian by introducing tailored content recommendations and targeted marketing campaigns

